[redacted] NAME CHECKS

ALL INFORMATION CONTAINED HEREIN IS UNCLASSIFIED DATE 2-8-94 BY SP2BTS/STP

With reference to Bureau radiogram of August 1, 1952, advising that derogatory information concerning Benjamin Collun McAllister and Joseph Franklin Smith would be furnished you via air mail, Bureau files reflect the following information concerning these individuals:

BENJAMIN COLLUN McALLISTER, JR.
ALIAS HAROLD CATTE:

McAllister was the subject of a Selective Service investigation conducted by this Bureau in 1942, your file 25-183. (25-99383)

Additional information concerning McAllister was obtained on March 16, 1945, at which time he was picked up at Boise, Idaho, by an Agent of the Butte, Montana, Field Division for questioning in connection with another investigation. At this time, McAllister admitted that he was married to two separate women and was subsequently held on a state charge of bigamy. The records of the FBI Identification Division reflect the attached criminal record for this individual. (88-397-139(

JOSEPH ADAM CICHANSKI, with alias,
HENRY DAVIS, HARRY DAVIS, JOSEPH ODOM CICHANSKI,
JOSEPH SMITH, JOSEPH CISHANSKI, JOSEPH HENNICK:

The above-captioned individual was the subject of a Selective Service investigation conducted by this Bureau from November, 1942, to April, 1945, at which time he was reported delinquent for failure to advise of change of address, failure to execute Selective Service Questionnaires and failure to report for induction by various draft boards in the Savannah, Georgia, New York, New York, Chicago, Illinois, and Miami, Florida, Field Divisions. In 1945, prosecution was declined inasmuch as it was determined that subject was a patient in the Illinois State Hospital suffering from dementia praecox. A physical description of Cichanski as reflected in his Selective Service file is being set forth inasmuch as it is felt he may possibly be identical with the [redacted] Joseph Franklin Smith, born May 25, 1905, at Chicago, Illinois, and presently residing at Bettles, Alaska.

Everybody's a Volunteer Observer

Alaskans on Constant Watch for a Red Raid

By MAX B. COOK
Scripps-Howard Aviation Editor

Alaskan villagers, on the threshold of Russia have organized ground observer corps to give warning of enemy attack on the United States.

Alaska is astride the shortest route for Red bomber attacks on the U.S. mainland. Many Soviet bases are close to the Alaskan border. Warning of an attack would give additional precious hours to intercept enemy aircraft.

CONSTANT WATCH

Whole villages maintain round the clock watch on the Alaskan skies. The watchers include trappers, hunters, teachers, bush pilots, missionaries and Eskimos.

All 230 residents of Nulato, about 150 miles south of the Arctic Circle, are corps members. Their leader is a Jesuit missionary who has been living there 18 years.

Nulato's population includes three nuns, a nurse, a trader and some 224 native Alaskan Indians of the Tena tribe. Each takes his turn at skywatching.

The missionary spends an hour each week instructing observers. Reports of unidentified aircraft go to either the missionary or his second in command, a native Indian. The reports then are passed on to the Air Force monitor.

There are many other posts including Little Diomede Island, a stone's throw from Big Diomede, in Russian territory, and at Gambel and Savoonga on St. Lawrence Island, just this side of the Soviet-Alaskan border.

CLOSE CO-OPERATION

Alaskan Air Command training personnel visit the remote posts regularly. They use everything from light planes equipped with pontoons or skis to dog sleds. They bring movies, training aids and equipment.

Close co-operation is being established between the Alaskan observer corps and its Canadian counterpart. The radar screens can cover the skies but cannot detect low-flying aircraft which might slip thru between the radar stations.

Advance warnings from Alaska would provide from one to three hours added time for U.S. interceptors in case of an enemy attack over this shortest route. And both the USAF in Alaska and Canadian Air Force would get the first shot at the invaders.

On 3-12-62 SA [redacted] Liaison Section, Domestic Intelligence Division, advised that he had been informed by [redacted]

[redacted]

The program which was known under the code name "Stage" was a highly secret program initially operated by the FBI [redacted] until 1951 when the Bureau discontinued participation. [redacted] It was instituted subsequent to World War II for the purpose of selecting personnel who would deliberately stay behind in Alaska in the event of an invasion or occupation. A review has been made of Bufile #65-59264 and Identification Division files which reveals that we presently have 52 flash notices still in effect. In view of the information received from [redacted] it is recommended that the flash notices be canceled.

Referral/Consult

RECOMMENDATION:

That the aforementioned 52 flash notices previously placed in connection with the above program be discontinued at this time inasmuch as the "Stage" program is no longer in operation.
